

AN UNJUST LAW.

The entire State is up in arms objecting to the manner in which the State Board of Equalization has performed its duties.

As near as the APPEAL has been able to ascertain, the taxes on the railroads have been reduced and the taxes on the individual taxpayer have been raised.

If we are incorrect we shall be pleased to hear from any member of the Board. The columns of the paper are, in fact, open to any one who desires to discuss the subject.

We believe that taxes should be levied impartially on everybody, but this system has never been much in vogue in this State.

If the Board of Equalization has favored the corporations at the expense of the individual taxpayers, it is something for which they will have to answer to the people, as the voters of Nevada are not persons who will tamely submit to such an outrage.

We confess ourselves a little mixed on the question, and have taken the pains to study every scrap of information obtainable on the subject. Without stopping to particularize we are compelled to draw the conclusion that the assessments have been a reduction in favor of the corporations and a raise on the individuals.

At the time the bill was passed it was charged with being a measure intended to aid the few at the expense of the many. If such was the object of the bill, and the Board attempts to carry out this plan, we believe every member of the Board aiding in carrying out this scheme will live to bitterly regret it, and the Republican party next Fall will reap a whirlwind of opposition in consequence.

SILENT CONTEMPORARIES.

The recent scandal in the District Court, which has been thoroughly exposed by the APPEAL, has not been alluded to by our live contemporaries. From the incipency of the case until the present writing they have not dared to defend the acts of their masters, for they are well aware that if they did so there would be a tar-and-feather matinee in Ormsby.

The gang of conspirators who are now holding midnight caucuses and maneuvering to stave off a final accounting to the Grand Jury, control these sheets, and they dare not criticize the actions of anybody who buys the control of their editorial columns by the year with a ten dollar advertisement.

The position of serving a clique of bosses whose action can not be defended, and trying to hoodwink the public, who are dead on to the situation, excites pity on one hand and contempt on the other.

Our advice to our mercenary contemporaries is to follow the example of the "outraged father" and strike for better wages.

There is a sensational story in the dispatches to the effect that there is a woman in St. Louis who claims to be an illegitimate daughter of Queen Victoria. She claims that the royal family have spent untold wealth trying to hush the matter up and that some years ago a letter with £5,000 on the inside and the royal seal of England on the outside was put under her door, but being delirious she burned the letter. The story gets pretty shakey when she tells about the royal seal of England on a letter from the Queen, who was trying to keep the matter quiet. The reporter who concocted the yarn had better try his hand on a plain snake story until his wings grow.

The temperance people are charged with setting fire to saloons in Alameda. If the saloons continue to sell the same class of goods they did the last time we visited that section the burning of the premises, ought, in our opinion to be supplemented by the hanging of the proprietor.
